13th CONFERENCE OF COMPARATIVE EDUCATION SOCIETY
in EUROPE JUNE 27 - JULY 1. 1988. BUDAPEST, HUNGARY

Dear colleague,

As we announced in our invitation, Hungary will be the host of an important international pedagogic-scientific meeting. The Comparative Education Society in Europe (CESE) will hold the 13th Conference in Budapest from 27th June till 1st July 1988. We look forward to the participation of pedagogical researchers, educators and interested persons from many countries. This Conference wants to give an opportunity to make the participants acquainted with the newest results of research made in the important themes of the comparative education and to have an exchange of ideas. It would be a good possibility to inform the participants of the Conference about the important results attained in several countries in this field.

The theme of the 13th CESE Conference is:

Aims of education and development of personality: comparative aspects. (Budapest)

As plenary speakers are invited:

Béla Köpeczi – Minister of Education and Culture, member of Hungarian Academy of Sciences (Budapest)

José-Luis Garcia Garrido – President of CESE, Professor (Madrid)

András Benedek – Professor (Budapest)

Henk Van daele – Secretary-Treasurer of CESE, Professor (Gent)

Magda Illés – Professor (Budapest)

Márton Horváth – Secretary General of the Hungarian Pedagogic Society, Professor (Budapest)

Zoja Malkova – Professor (Moscow)

Wolfgang Mitter – Immediate Past President of CESE, Professor (Frankfurt am Main)

The Conference programme will be organized around six themes:

1. The process of socialization and the development of personality. Coordinator: Éva Széchy (Professor of University, Budapest)
2. The impact of value change on the development of personality. Coordinator: Anne-Marie Goguel (Professor of University, Dijon)
3. Interrelation of general education and preparation for work. Coordinator: Joop Branger, Vice President of CESE (Professor of University, Leiden)
4. The development of personality in formal education. Coordinator: Guy Neave (Professor of University, London)
5. New trends in personality theory. Coordinator: V.A. Pilipovszkij (Professor, Moscow)
6. The development of personality and new information technologies. Coordinator: Mauro Laeng, Vice-President of CESE (Professor of University, Rome)

Working languages of the plenary sessions are English, French, German, Russian and Hungarian; of the sections are English and French.

Those, who want to make a contribution at the sections, please, to send it in two copies (English or French) max. 12 pages (A/4 type). One copy to Professor Henk Van daele (Rue d' Arlon 15.B-1040 Bruxelles), and other copy to Dr. Magda Illés (1132 Budapest, Visegrádi u. 14.)

Deadline for Papers: May 1. 1988.
